Uniquely Urban.

There's a reason the Junction Triangle is coveted in Toronto. It is one of the most electric parts of the city with a mix of local charm and urban ambiance. Walk north to experience the vast green space of EarlsCourt Park, or head south towards the energy of Bloor Street, where you can take transit to anywhere in the city on the TTC, GO, or UP Express.

Along Dupont, Symington, and nearby Dundas West, discover new flavours at the interesting restaurants or walk into one of the many independent stores that make this community strong and diverse. Feel the energy of the neighbourhood shine through as you see familiar faces who've lived here forever and the new ones visiting for the first time.
